Share Lent Pilgrimage – Solidarity Sunday!

Today is Solidarity Sunday. Thank you for your generosity.

Every gift goes far to help our sisters and brothers around the world – from Haiti to Paraguay to Bethlehem and beyond! We end our Share Lent pilgrimage with the words of our Holy Father Pope Francis in this Jubilee Year of Mercy: “Mercy is the force that reawakens us to new life and instills in us the courage to look to the future with hope.”

Envelopes for your Share Lent donations are available at the back of the church.

Thank you for helping to create a hopeful future!

Concert at Ascension of Our Lord: Pergolesi's Stabat Mater

You are invited to a performance of Pergolesi's Stabat Mater which will be performed at Ascension on Palm Sunday, March 20th at 3 p.m. The concert will feature celebrated vocalists, Audrey Larose-Zicat, soprano, and Sonia Loyer, mezzo-soprano, as well as our own director of music, David Szanto, at the organ. The work is a breathtaking homage to the sorrows of the Blessed Mother during the crucifixion of her son... an exquisite way to begin our Holy Week devotions. Admission is free; there will be a freewill offering.

Flowers for Easter

You are invited to make a donation in the name of loved ones toward the purchase of flowers to decorate the church and altar for the Easter season. Donations envelopes are available at the back of the church and should be received by March 21st in order to allow us time to organize the decor of our beautiful church during this most holy and joyous season.

Saturday Evening Mass Change

The recent Mass time preference survey taken at Mass on February 20th indicated that parishioners prefer the time 4:30 pm instead of 5:00pm for the regular Mass. Therefore, beginning April 2nd 2016 the Mass on Saturday evening will be changed from 5:00 pm to 4:30pm. Hopefully this will satisfy our parishioners and be convenient for everyone.

REFLECTION

There is something about starting over. A new page. A new year. A new week. That feeling that the past is the past. I like to think that people who have messed up in some way get a second chance, and that they learn from their mistakes.

That concept of starting over flows through today's readings. In the first reading from Isai we hear “Remember not the events of the past, the things of long ago consider not; see, I am doing something new.” And in the second reading, “Just one thing: forgetting what lies behind but straining forward to what lies ahead, I continue my pursuit toward the goal, the prize of God's upward calling, in Christ Jesus.”

We have that second and third and infinite number of chances when we seek God's love. We stray off the path, but we can always find it again. That is so powerful and, I think, difficult for us to grasp. We feel we have to do something to earn love or that by our mistake we have made ourselves unworthy. We find it hard to let go of the past, our resentments and grudges. We feel unworthy because we are human and make mistakes; we give in to the temptations that surround us. When we turn to God, we can become that clean slate. We can ask forgiveness and be forgiven.

The parable in John's gospel is one of my own favorites. I wish I could have been there to see the scribes and the Pharisees who thought they had a “gotcha” moment. “Let the one among you who is without sin be the first to throw a stone at her,” Jesus tells them, as this poor woman stands there. Jesus goes back to tracing patterns in the dirt as the Pharisees and scribes melt away. Jesus does not condemn the woman either as he tells her to go and sin no more.

In my own world, when I feel judgmental of others, I need to remember that powerful phrase. I can strive to start over, to know that God will welcome me as I am. I can try to live that way in my own life. I can remember the verse before the Gospel where God says: “Return to me with your whole heart, for I am gracious and merciful.” I pray that I return to God every day, every hour with a whole heart.
